

FOUND3R

Good morning, FOUND3Rs.

In Austin we created the world's very first HACKAROO. This model of civic engagement was not just a fun event, but had a serious purpose to create positive change for a desperately underserved community.

With our extraordinary creativity, technical know-how, design chops, and problem-solving capabilities we dreamed up and co-created three solutions to child welfare. Child welfare is a problem that every community is grappling to solve – and in a few hours you made change happen!

Together, we co-created the remarkable. With a little magic (and some tacos!), three extraordinary solutions that have never been imagined were uplifted by the community as our best ideas. And those solutions are being responsibly stewarded by our nonprofit partner.

Change is incremental, and starts with you, fellow Changemakers!

Tomorrow we'll take another route up this mountain of worthwhile change as a community of changemakers and metaphorically summit the tallest tale in Washington, DC – Mount Purpose.

You are personally invited to eat lunch with us at the renowned National Press Club where we'll share our stories, learn and unlearn together, and better understand how and why to change women's health in America. A legend of change, Phyllis Greenberger, will share her best practices and tips to empower all of us in our own climb up this internal peak of purpose.

It's the same magic that you're familiar with and love, but a different venue and another worthwhile challenge.

It's also the start of something incredibly meaningful in America.

Eat with us. Co-create Change Together!

Mount Purpose is the legend of how a community of Changemakers, Storytellers and key Stakeholders came together at the base of this epic mythical mountaintop in Washington, DC to change things one story at a time. You don't have to climb alone, anymore!

Several FOUND3Rs have already signed up and will be there. You are invited to eat with us.

This legendary story of change at the highest peak I can dream up as a Changemaker – kicks-off a year-long calendar of events aimed at changing Health in America. Over a dinner table, we'll meaningfully connect folks from public and private sectors along with changemakers and community members.

If you are working on changing Health in America and your passion and purpose aligns with one of our topics, email me back and come and share.
